STATEMENT ON KURNELL

Regrettably the decision taken by Caltex to close its Kurnell refinery in 2014 will have a significant impact on those who work at and support the refinery.

Every job loss in NSW represents a significant blow to our economy, however this is a business decision made by Caltex in a challenging economic climate.

The NSW Government welcomes Caltex's commitment to ensuring workers are informed of any retention, redeployment and retraining opportunities, whilst also advising them of their redundancy entitlements.

Caltex has assured the NSW Government that it will continue to deliver a reliable and high quality supply of products into the New South Wales market, as well as continued investment in the development of Caltex's supply chain.
